Game of Agree/Disagree

Put a piece of tape along the ground. Write “Agree” on one end and “Disagree” on the other. Share the statements below with your family, your children, your partner, your community, and ask them to stand anywhere along the line that makes sense for their reaction to the statement. Do you agree with the statement? Do you strongly disagree? Are you somewhere in between? Discuss.

- I am clear about my faith identity
- My faith identity is the same today as it was in my home growing up
- Including faith identity in my child’s upbringing is important to me
- My partner (or extended family or others close to me) and I have discussed what kind of faith identity we would like for our family
- My partner (or extended family or others close to me) and I agree about what we want for our family’s faith identity
- My family incorporates traditions from more than one faith
- Being part of a Jewish community is important to me
- I want to bring Jewish or faith-based experiences into our home
- I would like more support to figure out how to build our family’s faith identity
